Road Trip Poster: Exceptional Example

This is an example of a good poster. The driving directions were clearly mapped out and it included all three stops that were required on the way to their destinations. Additional information and pictures about each stop were also included.

Road Trip Poster: Mediocre Example

This is an example of a mediocre poster. The driving directions were not completely mapped out and it did not include the required information about the stops at the different landmarks. They did include some budget information but it was incomplete.
